THE JUBILEE MATCH.

The Result of the Deferred Jubilee Match, Which Was Shot on Friday Last.

As has been announced the Jubilee match on June 22nd had to be shot over again, and for want of ammunition and other causes it has since been several times postponed; but on Friday last it was finally shot. The wind was strong and the light bad, which accounts for the poor scores made. The following is the result:

200 yards.—1 J. H. Smith, 32, silver color; 2 J. Mair, 31, napkin ring; 3 T. Withrow, 29, silver cup.

500 yards.—1 C. A. Gass, 32, Hat; S. Green, 28, box cigars; F. Statham, 27, pipe.

600 yards.—1 W. J. White, 25, gold pin; H. Carter, 23, cuff buttons; J. H. Wilcox, 22, watch chain.

Aggregate.—J. H. Smith, 75, Jubilee cup.

The Consolation was shot on Tuesday the 13th, at 500 yards and resulted as follows: D. Morrison, 30, lamp; J. Rutherford, 28, napkin ring; Con. Leary, 27, butter knife.

The Association has been invited by the North-West Mounted Police to send a team to compete in their annual shoot which takes place on the 29th inst. for a trophy valued at $32.00, and the team is also invited to luncheon and dinner at the Barracks. The team to represent the Association will be chosen from the following members:—C. A. Gass, H. G. Hubbell, Seymour Green, D. Moore, T. Withrow, D. Morrison, J. H. Smith, J. Mair, W. J. White, Geo. Holdsworth, Con. Leary and J. H. Wilcox.

Last week's prize—a silver salt and pepper set—presented by Mr. J. Mair, was won by T. Withrow—score 85.

Turnbull and McCulloch.

Dr. A. B. Turnbull announces in another column that he has taken into partnership Dr. J. W. McCulloch, of Winnipeg, and the new firm will be known as Turnbull & McCulloch. Dr. McCulloch recently graduated at Winnipeg, and he is to be congratulated upon securing for a partner such an experienced man as Dr. Turnbull.

The Glorious Twelfth.

Caron Loyal Orange Lodge celebrated the "Glorious Twelfth" as only Orangemen can; and although the day was oppressively hot, being about 110, a large crowd assembled at Caron bluffs to do honor to King William and the cause of which he was the great exponent. They day was fairly well filled in with a most attractive programme of sports, and a baseball match, in which Caron was victorious over all-comers by about 15 runs. Quite a number of Moose Jaw Orange men joined the Caron brethren in the celebration, and returned home well pleased with the treatment that they received at the hands of the L. O. L. No. 1599.

The Covered Buggy.

Lord Chesterfield's advice to young men in England was that they should put on a black coat and go into society. Any of whom have seen the Idler magazine for April will tell at a glance at one of the illustrations that a young man cannot enter English society with nothing on but a black coat.

The Cheerful Idiot's advice to young men of the North West is to get a covered buggy, especially if they live on a flat country. If they want to know why let them glance over what is written beneath.

A couple wandered o'er the plains, As Sunday couples can; The girl was fair to gaze upon, The other was a man. He said to her, "I love you, Maud, Oh, how I'd like to hug'ee, But if I did the folks would see. I wish I had a buggy. Then you and I could drive about On every Sabbath day, And list not to a noisy crowd, Nor heed what people say. For we would have the cover up, And I, dear Maud, could hug'ee, Then I, forsooth, could kiss your mouth; Oh, Maud, I'll get a buggy. These plains are flat, tho' very fair, But ah, they are so level; When we go out and people stare, I wish them to the devil. And you grow tired when you do walk, The days they are so muggy, But, Maud, these things would fade away If I had but a buggy. I'll pawn my watch, I'll pawn my chain, My farm, 'tis up a spout; I'll steal a horse and once again I'll drive you round about. Now, when I think of drives to come, Oh, Maud, dear, I could hug'ee, But plains are flat to dirt upon, No, Maud, we'll have a buggy."

FELL BETWEEN THE CARS.

Brakeman Gus. Evamy Killed at Broadview on Wednesday.

At 14 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon when about one mile east of Broadview, Brakeman Gus. Evamy fell between the cars and was run over, the wheels passing over both his legs above the knees. When the train stopped several cars had passed over him. He was still alive and was taken to Broadview where Dr. Elliott amputated both limbs, but he had lost too much blood and died from the effects of his injuries at 21 o'clock that evening.

Mr. Evamy was well known in Moose Jaw and was very popular, especially in railroad circles. For several years he had been brakeman on the Brandon Moose Jaw passenger run under Con. Arch Leitch, but for the past six weeks he had been running on freight out of Brandon. When death overtook him he was one of Con. P. Bird's crew. He was a married man and leaves a wife and small family to mourn his loss.

The First Sod Turned.

The contracts for the first fifty miles of the Crow's Nest road were let at Macleod on Wednesday and on the same day the first sod was turned by C. H. Strevel's outfit, who had secured the contract for the grading of the first five miles of the road bed. Other contractors are Toley Bros. and Dohney who get thirty-five miles between them, and McCrimmon and McArthur who get five miles each.

At Menley.

The Winnipeg four won the first heat for the Stewart challenge cup against the Dutch crew from Utrecht University, by one length. The time was 7.47. Considerable interest was manifested in the West and the welcome news was obtained over the wires on Tuesday evening. Professional critics say that the style of the Winnipeg boys is not just perfect, but they get there just the same. Later news says they were afterwards beaten by New College's crack crew.

Threshed Out.

Just about a year ago a most destructive hailstorm passed over the most thickly settled portion of this district and deprived a large number of farmers of their year's work. Last Saturday about one o'clock a severe storm again passed over the district in about the same locality, but did not do quite as much damage as last year's. Nevertheless it destroyed seventy-five acres of wheat belonging to Mr. Arch Curran, and the entire crop of Richard Davey, who had a hundred acres of wheat and about twenty of oats. Mr. Curran has about twenty acres left. The grain was pretty well advanced, being about sixteen inches long and commencing to head out. Mr. Baine's crop is also reported a total loss, and H. Dorrell and C. Armstrong are said to have suffered considerably. Much sympathy is felt for the unfortunate settlers and they may rest assured that they will not be allowed to want for seed next year.

Grand President McInnis.

Last Friday and Saturday Grand President McInnis of the North-West Territories P. of L. visited the principal lodges in this district. At Caron the Patrons turned out en masse to hear him and after routine business had been disposed of, the meeting was thrown open to the general public, with Mr. A. H. Powell in the chair. Mr. McInnis thanked Caron Lodge for the brave stand taken by it in the late campaign, and emphasized the fact that they should stand by their organization and its principles. All Governments required watching, and notwithstanding that some of the ablest of Canadian statesmen were now at the head of affairs, there was still work for the Patrons. The growth, benefit and influence of the order were touched on both commercially and politically. At the close of the address a vote of confidence was carried unanimously and in a few neat remarks tendered Mr. McInnis by Chairman Powell.

At Caron another large gathering met Mr. McInnis and listened for an hour to an able address. Here, as at Caron, a vote of confidence was carried by a standing vote and tendered Mr. McInnis by Mr. Robt. Moore, chairman. The Patron candidate seems right in the swim, and should the coming protest throw the constituency open and he is again called on to champion Patron interests, the opposition, if there be any, will no doubt have a battle on their hands.

PARIS'S WORST DISASTER.

Nothing in Its History Can Compare with the Late Catastrophe

Paris has nothing in its history with which it can properly compare the catastrophe of the Rue Jean Goujon. The last great fire accompanied by loss of life was the burning down of the Opera Comique. May 25, 1887, when nearly 200 lives were lost. The victims of that fire, however, were nearly all unknown, whereas those who perished on Tuesday were persons of social position, many of them belonging to the most exclusive royalist and Catholic grand monde of the Faubourg Saint Germain. Among them is an Orleansian princess closely related to the house of Austria.

For a fire where the victims were exclusively society people it is necessary to go back to Prince Schwarzenberg's disastrous ball, in July, 1810, that came near burning up an Emperor and Empress of the French. Prince Schwarzenberg was Ambassador of the Emperor of Austria, to Napoleon I., and the ball was given at the embassy in honor of the recent marriage of Napoleon with Marie Louise. The Emperor and his new bride were both present. The fall of a lighted chandelier set fire to the ballroom, destroying the building. Marie Louise had a narrow escape, and Princess Pauline Schwarzenberg, the Ambassador's sister-in-law, lost her life, as did several other guests. Many were injured. The accident was the immediate cause of the remodelling of the Paris Fire Department, and its organization in the shape in which it stands practically to-day. Gloomy forebodings of the result of Napoleon's marriage has been formed by persons who remembered the catastrophe at the last Austrian marriage, that of Marie Antoinette, with the Dauphin, later Louis XVI, in 1770, when a panic in the crowd assembled to see the fireworks on the Place Louis XV, now the Place de la Concorde, not far from the scene of Tuesday's horror, resulted in the death of 1200 persons.

A cousin of the Duchesse d'Alençon, the young daughter of the late Archduke Albrecht of Austria, was burned to death before her father's eyes some years ago by her dress catching fire.

For the helplessness of the victims, and the large proportion of women lost, a parallel must be sought outside of France, in the dreadful catastrophe at Santiago in Chili in 1863, when 2,000 persons, the greater number of them women, were burned up in the Cathedral. It was on the feast-day of the Immaculate Conception. The church had been decorated with a great deal of inflammable material, when a candle, flaming up on the altar, set the whole in a blaze.

There has recently died in the East End of London an old gentleman, a centenarian, who is locally reported to be the last person in England to wear that curious fashion of head dress common in George III's time, a "pig-tail."

He had been considered quite a dandy in his youth, and the new fashions were none of them so smart as when he played the lady-killer, "about Roney's time."

often pride himself, in his weak, quavering voice, of being "the only gentleman left that was dressed as a 'real gentleman should be.'" His sly regret was that he was obliged to have his hair braided by others, when his own poor hands grew too feeble to perform the duty; but to the very last he always chose his own particular tint of hair ribbon, a certain "correct" shade of dark indigo blue.

SIR WALTER SCOTT.

Sir Walter Scott had his share of curious experiences in the same connection shortly after being called to the bar. His first appearance as counsel in a criminal court was at Jedburgh assizes, in the year 1793, when he successfully defended a veteran poacher. "You're a lucky scoundrel," Scott whispered to his client when the verdict was given. "I'm just of your mind," returned the latter, "and I'll send you a maukin (hare) the morn, man." Lockhart, who narrates the incident, omits to add whether the "maukin" duly reached Scott, but no doubt it did.

On another occasion Scott was less successful in his defense of a house-breaker, but the culprit, grateful for his counsel's exertions, gave him, in lieu of the orthodox fee, which he was unable to pay, this piece of advice, to the value of which he, the house-breaker, could professionally attest: First, never to have a large watchdog out of doors, but to keep a little, yelping terrier within; and, secondly, to put no trust in nice, clever, gimcrack locks, but to pin his faith to a huge, old heavy one with a rusty key. Scott long remembered the incident and thirty years later, at a judge's dinner at Jedburgh, he recalled it in his impromptu rhyme: "Yelping terrier, rusty key,

Was Walter Scott's best Jeddart fee."

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Mr. Cleverley, of Moosomin, was in town on Wednesday.

Mr. E. Colpitts expects to leave on Monday next for Slocan City.

Lost.—On the night of the 12th, a lap robe and overcoat. Where was it found?

On Sunday morning next the Vicar of Moose Jaw will celebrate and administer the blessed sacrament of the Holy Communion at Baile's, Buffalo Lake, at 10.30.

The Rev. W. Watson, from Moose Jaw, expects to be able to have Divine service in the school house, Westview, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All who will come are heartily invited.

A portion of the late Indian Office, Regina, is being transferred into the Territorial library, and a considerable addition of the best standard works is being made and the library otherwise improved.

The commissioners appointed for consolidating the Territorial Ordinances is in session this week at Regina, and the work will be completed in time to submit the revision to the August sitting of the Assembly. The Commissioners are Judge Richardson, of Regina, Judge Wetmore, of Moosomin, and C. C. McCaul, Q.C., of Calgary.

Mr. T. O. Davis, M.P., for Saskatchewan, was in town on Saturday taking in the sights. Interviewed by a Times reporter, Mr. Davis said that he was just returning home from Ottawa, and as he had for some time contemplated seeing Moose Jaw he just took a run up for a day. This was the first time he had ever been this far west, and he expressed himself as being highly pleased with the neat appearance of our town.

Mr. T. W. Robinson is now enjoying an extended holiday in California and the Western States. On Tuesday, July 6th, he joined Mrs. Robinson in Chicago, from which place they took advantage of the Christian Endeavor excursion to San Francisco, visiting the principal cities en route and spending a short time with a brother of Mrs. Robinson, at Pueblo, Col. This week they are at San Jose, Cal., as the guests of Mr. C. H. Robinson, a brother who formerly resided in Winnipeg. They will return to Toronto via the C. P. R. about the middle of August, but owing to the limited time of the excursion ticket they will be unable to stop over at Moose Jaw, which Mrs. Robinson deeply regrets.

An Ottawa despatch states that the Government has come to the conclusion that in the contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the Crow's Nest line there shall be a provision that none but bona fide Canadian laborers shall be employed and the Government agents on the line have received instructions to keep their eyes open for parties who pretend to come across the border to settle, but really intend to secure work for a few months, then return to the States. This provision will be strictly enforced for the protection of our own interests. This will be welcome news to the people of the West. Half a dozen different laws against aliens exist in the United States and it is about time reciprocal treatment were meted out to United States citizens on this side of the line.

The first issue of the North West Dairyman's report has been found insufficient, and an extra thousand copies have been ordered.

Mr. W. S. Urton, C. P. R. station agent at Duck Lake, was in town a few days last week, en route home from a visit to Winnipeg.

Principal A. M. Fenwick and R. G. Martin left Tuesday evening for Regina to commence their duties as members of the North-West examining board.

Mr. Harry Bate has decided to build a new residence on Main St., north, and Contractor Beard has now the material on the ground for its construction.

The North-West Gazette contains the appointment of Mr. A. H. Powell, of Caron, to be poundkeeper, and also the resignation of Mr. D. C. McDougall, of Buffalo Lake, as poundkeeper.

Councillor Hannah, Miss Louisa Hannah and Master Arthur leave this evening for the Winnipeg exhibition. Miss Hannah will probably visit friends at Ft. William before returning.

The Rev. J. A. Carmichael, of Regina was a passenger on Tuesday morning's train en route to Victoria to spend his holidays, during which he will have temporary charge of Rev. Mr. Clay's pulpit.

Mr. Moorhouse returned from Maple Creek on Saturday evening, where he had been called on account of a breakdown in the creamery at that place. The trouble was over a broken injector which Mr. Moorhouse replaced with a new one.

Mayor Bogue leaves on Saturday for Winnipeg, where he will spend Exhibition week. Mr. Bogue contemplated spending several weeks in the eastern provinces, but owing to the limited time at his disposal he has been obliged to abandon his intended trip.

Mr. Hugh Robson, of Regina, a prominent limb of the law well-known in this district, was married on June 30th, at Vancouver, to Miss Fanny Laidlaw, formerly of Regina. The happy couple passed through on Thursday evening last week en route home from their wedding tour.

By special desire of the Queen, all the Colonial Premiers, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, visited Windsor Castle on Wednesday of last week, for the purpose of presenting Her Majesty with Jubilee addresses from their respective colonies. Subsequently the Premiers were sworn in as Privy Counsellors.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail and Empire writes to his paper that the proposed plan of the Government to reform the Senate is to constitute the several legislatures of the provinces into a convention and pass an address to the Imperial Parliament asking not for abolition, but for reforming the Senate on a democratic basis. This change would require an election of Senators either by the people or by the provincial legislatures.

Mr. Aud. Clement, of the firm of Clement & Sons, one of the largest commission houses in the city, was in town on Monday, en route east from a trip to the coast cities. His firm have large establishments at Glasgow, Scotland, and Manchester, England, and deal extensively in Canadian products. Nearly all of last year's output of the Moose Jaw creamery was purchased by him and he expressed himself as highly pleased with the quality of the butter, it having found a ready sale. While here he was shown through the Moose Jaw creamery by the manager, Mr. Moorhouse.

The Montreal correspondent of the World says the Canadian Pacific magnates are feeling well pleased with prospects just now. Sir Wm. Van Horne was asked if he had any particular theory as to the cause of the great increase in the company's business, and replied that it came from the large increase of business in the North-West and British Columbia, and the increase embraced both passenger and freight receipts. The President scouted the idea that the building of the Crow's Nest Pass had anything to do with the increase; for in the first place work had not yet begun, and in the second, nothing had been moved over the road in connection with the new road.

The people of Rossland who still owe allegiance to the United States, celebrated the 4th of July at that place in good style. The speaker of the day was our former townsman, Mr. W. J. Nelson, regarding whose address the Rossland Record says:—"Hon. W. J. Nelson's speech glittered with metaphors and was jewelled throughout with bright quotations from the popular poets. His well directed sentences were often drowned in cheers. He said in part: I ever admire a patriot from whatever country he may be and I respect the man who honors his own country. (The speaker then quoted the poet Montgomerie) I am glad you are upon foreign soil which allows you the privilege of honoring the brave deeds of your fathers. I would call your attention to the great international celebration between Canada and the United States, when the first railway was connected in 1851 between Boston and Montreal. To day reminds me of that and I hope to see the day when 'God Save the Queen' can be sung with 'Yankee Doodle Dandy,' the day when the proud Union Jack and the beautiful Stars and Stripes will wave from the same dapple. What better evidence than to-day could there be of the two great nations being bound together by the chain of mutual interest. It is meet this should be so. Are we not of the same blood, the same race, speak the same language, worship the same God, and abide by the same laws?"

Nurse Mannahan, of the Medicine Hat Hospital, arrived in town on Monday evening to nurse Mr. Chas. Cowan, who is, we regret to say, getting very low.

The Medicine Hat School Board are advertising for a principal. A preference will be given to a married man. None of the Moose Jaw staff need apply.

On Monday at Qu'Appelle, the son of Mr. S. T. Scott, of the Progress, was accidentally shot in the head by some boys who were shooting at a mark with a small rifle. Death ensued in a few hours.

Mr. Hitchcock left on Wednesday to visit his mother at Menteith, Man., and is expected back on Monday. He was accompanied by Masters Harry and Alfred McCulloch, Mrs. Hitchcock's two grandchildren.

Mr. D. L. McGibbon, manager of the Co-operative Stores, Medicine Hat, is now in Montreal to attend a wedding ceremony in which he will participate as bridegroom. Mr. McGibbon is youngest son of Major McGibbon, of Regina. With his bride he will return to Medicine Hat about the 20th inst.

Christian Marker of the Government dairy service, reports that the settlers throughout Alberta are availing themselves of the advantages of the creameries as fully as was expected, except in the vicinity of Calgary, and there the amount of cream coming in is increasing very satisfactorily.

It is said that the recent change in the C.P.R. management is having a beneficial effect upon western business houses, particularly those of Winnipeg, as many of the supplies which were formerly purchased in the east and distributed from Montreal, are now obtained in the western city and distributed to the agents on the western division.

The Commercial, in discussing the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass road, says: The whole country will be drawn from in the purchase of supplies and the expenditure in this connection will be great. In the first hundred miles it is estimated that from rights to ten million feet of lumber will be used, and the supply will be drawn from the British Columbia mills.

The Winnipeg Industrial Fair for '97 is going to outstrip all previous efforts. The management are taking extraordinary means to make it one of the most complete agricultural, industrial and art exhibitions ever held in Canada. This fair owing to its past successes is now creating such widespread attention and interest, that the American railroads will this summer run special excursion trains from Illinois, Minnesota and Dakota to the great Winnipeg Industrial Fair. One of the first causes of the unusual popularity of the Winnipeg Fair has been the providing of amusements for visitors by the management.

Under the heading of "Liquor," Commissioner Herchmer in his annual report says: It is reported considerable liquor is supplied Indians in the far north by traders. This matter will be looked after this winter. The supplying of Indians in the Territories with liquor has prevailed to some extent, but all such cases are closely attended to, and the guilty parties punished, but not as severely, as in my opinion, they should be. In this direction we have found the Indian scouts most valuable. The North-West Ordinances re the sale of liquor are, in most of the towns, very imperfectly carried out. The matter rests with the inspectors, appointed under the ordinance, who apparently make very little effort to carry out their provisions.

The people of Rossland who still owe allegiance to the United States, celebrated the 4th of July at that place in good style. The speaker of the day was our former townsman, Mr. W. J. Nelson, regarding whose address the Rossland Record says:—"Hon. W. J. Nelson's speech glittered with metaphors and was jewelled throughout with bright quotations from the popular poets. Are we not of the same blood, the same race, speak the same language, worship the same God, and abide by the same laws?"

Editor McInnis of the Regina Standard visited our town on Friday last, and in this week's issue of his paper he says: "The town of Moose Jaw is vividly progressing. New and handsome residences have been erected and more are on the way to completion. The C.P.R. work shops and divisional offices are a great advantage to the place, they pay roll there being for last month $15,000. This with the prospect of an abundant harvest and the thriving condition of the stock industry in the hills to the south, augurs well for a season of good business in all mercantile lines and for the greater advancement of the busy little railway town."

Mr. W. G. McKenzie and Miss J. McKenzie, of Estevan, were at the dining hall on Monday.

Condolence.

At the last regular meeting of Star of the West L. O. L. No. 1599, Caron, the following resolution of condolence was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cudmore:—

DEAR SIR AND BROT,—We, the officers and members of L. O. L. No. 1599, wish to convey to you our heartfelt sympathy in your sad bereavement in the sudden death of your beloved son, John.

We feel our helplessness in the lightening of your burden and grief by anything we can say or do; but we also feel that we would not be doing our duty as Orangemen did we allow the opportunity to pass without expressing our deep sympathy for you and your beloved partner in life, upon whom this loss bears most heavily, and in the dark hour of your bereavement we would unite, one and all, with you and your beloved family in asking for the blessing of Him that doeth all things well.

Dear brother, we would ask you and yours not to sorrow, like those without hope, but put your trust in God who can and will remove all sorrow. And when your journey here on earth is over, we pray that you and yours will meet with all the loved ones where parting is no more.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
JOHN WILSON, W.M.
